Austria to Quiz Ex-Nazi About Eichmann Link

VIENNA, April 11 (AP) — Erich Rajakovic was expelled from Switzerland today, and the Austrian Interior Ministry said he will fly here Friday to undergo questioning on alleged ties with Adolf Eichmann.

Rajakovic flew to Munich from Switzerland, but vanished shortly afterward. German police said they were conducting a search for him and that they were under orders to expel him from Germany.

A spokesman for the Austrian Interior Ministry said Rajakovic, an Austrian-born former Nazi elite guard, would fly from Munich to Austria Friday and put himself at the disposal of Austrian prosecution authorities.

The Austrian Justice Ministry is investigating Rajakovic in connection with reports that he was a member of Eichmann's staff and helped in the mass killing of Jews during World War II. Eichmann was convicted of this and hanged by Israel last May.
